PREAMBLE

- 1) The Pro Golf Tour is recognised by the European Tour Group as part of the Satellite (third level) Tour Series. The Pro Golf Tour has been created to give young professionals and amateurs the opportunity to play on a professional stage and to achieve a category on the European Challenge Tour and/or exemptions from Stage 1 of the DP World Tour Qualifying School. As its main purposes are both, the strengthening of professional golf as well as professionalism in golf, all its activities will be focused on fulfilling these purposes.
- 2) In the following, using the terms “Professional”, “Player”, “Member” or “Participant” in the male form only is due to mere practical reasons for better readability and includes all female Members and/or guests of the Pro Golf Tour. References to the “Pro Golf Tour” mean the legal obligations of its organiser EPDT Golf Tours GmbH as set out in section K.
- 3) These Pro Golf Tour General Regulations (thereafter, “General Regulations”), including the Pro Golf Tour Code of Behaviour, shall govern the Pro Golf Tour as stipulated in the following sections:

A) MEMBERSHIP REGULATIONS

1) General

- a. A Member is defined as a participant of the Pro Golf Tour, enlisted in the Pro Golf Tour Ranking.
- b. All applications by an eligible Member must be confirmed by the Pro Golf Tour in order to grant full membership status. An eligible Member of the Pro Golf Tour shall be regarded as a full Member for the current season upon receipt of individual membership confirmation by the Pro Golf Tour. The Pro Golf Tour is entitled to choose their members freely, except for eligible Members according to A) 2) a. and d.
- c. To obtain full membership rights, a player who is eligible for membership must pay his membership fee. Only players that have played at least one tournament will receive their membership card.
- d. To be included in the final ranking a player must be a full Member and must have played in at least 4 Pro Golf Tour tournaments during one season.
- e. Non-Members who are professionals may play a maximum of three (3) tournaments in one season.
- f. On becoming a Member of the Pro Golf Tour, the said Member automatically accepts the Pro Golf Tour General Regulations and submits himself to standards of behaviour and ethical conduct well beyond those required of ordinary golfers and Members of the public.

2) Membership Eligibility

Only Pro Golf Tour Members will qualify for inclusion in the Pro Golf Tour Ranking. The following persons are eligible for full membership of the Pro Golf Tour:

- a. Any Member of a National PGA.
- b. Members of recognised Professional Tours.
- c. Non-Affiliated Members shall send a letter of recommendation from a certified PGA Professional and a proof of their playing ability.
- d. Amateurs: Amateurs are eligible to become Members of the Pro Golf Tour and they may in accordance with A) 3) take part in Pro Golf Tour tournaments and be included in the Pro Golf Tour Ranking and take advantage of category 3 during the season.

3) Amateurs

Only amateurs with a Handicap Index of 3,4 or better (proof of handicap and a recommendation letter from a PGA Professional required before an entry is accepted) may participate in a Pro Golf Tour tournament. (Professionals will always have priority over non-ranked amateurs regarding entries before the entry deadline, after entry deadline the rule is first come first served.)

4) Ranked Amateurs

An amateur who played the regular Pro Golf Tour season or the Pro Golf Tour Q-School and received a category and wants to play in the following season as a ranked amateur, must pay a membership fee for that season of € 250. The amateur will be classed as a ranked amateur and will receive the following rights on the Pro Golf Tour:

- a. He will receive a category for the following season (Order of Merit result / Q-School result).
- b. He will be entered in tournaments according to his category.
- c. He will be ranked on the Pro Golf Tour Order of Merit (must play at least four (4) tournaments).
- d. He will be entitled to enter the Tour Championship (subject to his position on the Order of Merit).

If on completion of one season on the Pro Golf Tour the ranked amateur wants to play the following season he has to turn professional before participating in his first tournament of the next season. An ranked amateur who does not turn professional for the following season will be classed as a non-ranking amateur for that year.

5) Termination of Membership

Should any of these players become exempt in a higher Challenge Tour Category (other than 13a) for the 2025 season, the next leading available player within the top 10 from the final 2024 Pro Golf Tour Rankings will become exempt.
- b. Winners of 3 Pro Golf Tour tournaments in the 2024 season will be eligible for
 - i. Challenge Tour Category 12c for the remainder of the 2024 season, and

NOTE: If any of the leading available 5 players within the top 10 of the final 2024 Pro Golf Tour Rankings wins 3 Pro Golf Tour tournaments in the 2024 season, that player will be eligible for Challenge Tour Category 13a for the 2025 season but eligibility for Challenge Tour Category 13b for the 2025 season will not be extended by that same number of spots. I.e., The winner of 3 Pro Golf Tour tournaments will be eligible for Category 13a, and the remaining leading available 4 players will be eligible for Challenge Tour Category 13b. However, if a winner of 3 Pro Golf Tour tournaments in the 2024 season finishes outside the leading available 5 players eligible for Challenge Tour Category 13b, such player will be eligible for Challenge Tour Category 13a for the 2025 season, and in addition to that spot, the leading available 5 players will still be eligible for Challenge Tour Category 13b for the 2025 season (or for Category 13a if any of the leading available 5 players wins 3 Pro Golf Tour tournaments in the 2024 season).

Ties on other positions will not be subject to play-offs.

This, among other things, includes compliance with reasonable requests from the Tournament Press Officer to attend the Press Centre to cooperate with the media immediately after the completion of a Tournament Round. Fine: Up to € 250.

17) Conflicting Advertising & Player Endorsements

19) Pace of Play

The Pro Golf Tour strongly recommends and encourages "Ready Golf".

Please note that the Pace of Play penalties during a tournament are as follows:

Monitoring: If a group fails to respond after being asked by an official to speed up, they will be monitored from the next tee. The group will be informed that they are being monitored.

- i. Any player who exceeds the time allowed to make a stroke will be assessed a "Monitoring Bad Time"
- ii. Any player having received a "Monitoring Bad Time" will be officially timed from the next tee unless the group has gained at least two minutes for that hole, or is back in position.
- iii. If a group which is being monitored fails to make up time or loses further time (without good reason), the group, or those players within the group who are deemed to be the cause of the delay will be officially timed from the next tee. The "Timing" will stop when the group is on time or back in position.

A Monitoring Bad time has the same status as an official bad time except it will not count towards any golfing penalty (see note). A Monitoring Bad Time will also be published on the official bad time register. The fines for Monitoring Bad times will be the same as if the group/player is being officially timed.

A group will only be monitored once during a round. If, during the same round, the group is seen to be behind time again they will be automatically officially timed. The group will be informed they are being timed.

All other parts of the Condition of Competition on the Pro Golf Tour Hard Card relating to pace of play are still in force except that players will be advised when they are being either monitored or timed.

Note: One stroke penalty. This will now be applied for the second bad time of a tournament and not as previously the second bad time of a round.

A "Monitoring "Bad Time" will now count towards the "One stroke penalty".

Penalty for breach of Pace of Play Policy: Stroke Play and Match Play:

1 st bad time	Verbal warning from the Referee + a further € 200 fine if the bad time is the second within one season
2 nd bad time	1 stroke penalty and € 100, - fine + a further € 200 for the second bad time within one season,

IN ADDITION to the above, any player will, on receipt of their 2nd bad time within a tour season, be fined € 200. Further bad times will be fined € 200 per instance. This rule is included to stop persistently slow players. Records of bad times will be kept and will be published for player's information. Additionally, any player who has been "On the Clock" on five different occasions within one season will be fined € 100. A player who has been "On the clock" 10 times during one season will be fined € 250. A player who has been "On the clock" 15 times during one season will be fined € 400.
